1. Relational wisdom (RW) is the ability to discern emotions, interests and abilities in yourself and others, to interpret this information in the light of your personal values, and to use these insights to manage your responses and relationships constructively.

2. RW is a “relational operating system” (like Windows or Mac OS) that impacts every aspect of our lives, including friendships, marital intimacy, parenting and job performance and advancement.
   • Relationship trumps expertise in most areas of life
   - Soft skills magnify or diminish the value of hard skills
   - Soft skills can account for as much as 80% of success in the marketplace today

3. Life is all about relationship.

4. Relationships can be challenging because they are often fueled by emotions, both positively and negatively.

5. RW enables us to deal more effectively with relationships and the emotions that fuel them.
   • Relationships are three dimensional
     - Values, Self, Others (So do continual 360’s)
   • Relationships involve two dynamics
     - Awareness: What do I know? (Knowledge)
     - Engagement: What will I do? (Action)

6. RW involves six relationship-building and leadership skills or disciplines:
   • Values-Awareness is your ability to honestly identify your true personal values.
   • Values-Engagement is your ability to consistently apply your values to real life.
   • Self-Awareness is your ability to accurately discern your own emotions, thoughts, values, interests and abilities.
   • Self-Engagement is your ability to manage your thoughts, emotions, words and actions.
   • Other-Awareness is your ability to understand and empathize with the experiences, emotions, values and interests of others.
   • Other-Engagement is your ability to love, encourage, serve and resolve differences with others in a mutually beneficial way.
7. Relational wisdom is so simple a child can apply it, yet so complex you can spend the rest of your life developing it. You can start growing today by memorizing and practicing four simple acrostics.

Practice The SOV Plan
- Self-aware: How am I feeling and acting?
- Other-aware: How are others feeling? How am I affecting them?
- Values-aware: What are my values? Am I living them out?

READ Yourself Accurately
- Recognize your emotions
- Evaluate their source
- Anticipate the consequences of following them
- Direct them on a constructive course

Follow a Trustworthy GPS
- Grade your values (thoughtful reflection)
- Pursue worthy values (family, role models)
- Serve others (it will make you happier!)

SERVE Every Person You Meet
- Smile (Home, office, store, telephone)
- Explore and Empathize (Show interest and compassion)
- Reconcile (Be a peacemaker)
- Value (Express appreciation and admiration)
- Encourage (Give heart, inspire, put wind under their wings)

8. Peacemaking, a special application of RW, is how we draw ourselves and others back inside the RW circle.

The Four G’s of Resolving Conflict
- Go higher – live up to your highest values
- Get the log out of your eye – accept responsibility
- Gently restore – help others accept responsibility
- Go and be reconciled – forgive as you want to be forgiven

Seven A’s of Confession
- Address everyone involved
- Avoid if, but and maybe
- Admit specifically
- Acknowledge the hurt
- Accept the consequences
- Alter your behavior
- Ask for forgiveness

Four Promises of Forgiveness
- I will not dwell on this incident
- I will not bring this incident up and use it against you
- I will not talk with others about this incident
- I will not let this incident hinder our personal relationship

PAUSE Principle of Negotiation
- Prepare
- Affirm relationships
- Understand interests
- Search for creative solutions
- Evaluate options objectively and reasonably

9. Unlike IQ (intelligence quotient) and personality, which do not change noticeably after the teen years, your relational wisdom can improve significantly if you are willing to work at it.
